	ANNA JONES: Pitch day really came about because my co-founder, Debbie Wosskow and I thought well we have so many amazing female founders within our network, where do they go for funding? And what we wanted to do was really showcase all of these awesome women and bring them together in front of rooms full of investors so they could pitch, they could get funded and really grow their companies.
	PITCHER: Good morning everybody. I'm representing a business that will generate over £150m pounds over the next five years.
	ANNA JONES: Partnering with HSBC Private Bank has been fantastic because we're very aligned in our mission to help as many female founders to get backing as possible.
	KRISTINA KOMLOSIOVA: It's really nice to come to a female focused event and see female investors.
	ORLA ENRIGHT: I think the way AllBright do pitch day is amazing. We really get all the information that we need as investors.
	KIRSTY MOORE: The pitch days here really give females a fantastic platform to come along and pitch their ideas in a really safe and wonderful environment.
