

July 2020

Intelligent investing in a post-pandemic world

Artificial intelligence

5G

Robotic process automation

Electronic payments

The Internet of things

Machine learning

Nano technology

Autonomous driving

Virtual reality

The tech sector represents an enormous investment opportunity.

It touches every sector of the market
And every part of the economy.

With restrictions on movement accelerating the adoption of new technologies.

This rapid change and constant innovation mean today's superstar can be tomorrow's dinosaur.

Sectors ripe for disruption by tech provide huge opportunities for investors.
Looking for a unique way to invest in tech?

Energy use is becoming increasingly electric, leveraging technological innovation in existing industries like:

Electric vehicles

And electric infrastructure

A refocus on supply chains and working practices is driving investment towards

Automation

Technology infrastructure

Security

Changing the landscape and creating a greener future.

Find out about tech sector investment opportunities by contacting your Relationship Manager or Investment Counsellor